Thank you for taking the time to read this email. We would like to introduce ourselves. Tapeswitch™ is a US-based manufacturer of electrical safety devices. We offer a full spectrum of sensing and signaling products featuring our innovative press at any point ribbon switch technology which is the foundation of our switches, edges, mats, and bumpers. We have served our customers globally with safety rated emergency shutdown, presence sensing, and contact solutions for over 60 years. What makes us unique is our ability to quickly respond to your safety needs. Typical problems our customers have are unprotected personnel, an inoperable machine or a hazardous area safety requirement. We are often asked if we can supply a custom product in one day to avoid an injury or lost production time. We understand this and will ship most products in one day.

Other services we offer are free lunch and learns for project managers, engineers, or anyone interested in our safety solutions. We will visit your facility, set up a PowerPoint presentation and provide lunch. Whether you have an immediate requirement or are planning a project for the future, we have experienced regional representatives that can assist you with an on-site visit or lunch and learn.
